

setting the terms of the fees for its non-core data product.<sup>11</sup>

The market data provided in NASDAQ Basic is non-core data that is governed by the same analysis the Commission set forth in the NetCoalition Order. As with the NYSE Arca depth-of-book product, no rule requires NASDAQ or any other exchange to offer its BBO and Last Sale or vendors to display that data. Because NASDAQ Basic data is merely a subset of depth-of-book data, NASDAQ is subject to the same competitive forces that apply to depth-of-book data: Its compelling need to attract order flow from market participants; and the availability to market participants of alternatives to purchasing the NASDAQ Basic data. Indeed, the Commission invoked the same reasoning in approving pilot programs for NASDAQ Last Sale and NYSE Open Book which provide non-core last sale data from NASDAQ and the New York Stock Exchange, one element of this proposal.<sup>12</sup>

NASDAQ considerations in setting the fees for NASDAQ Basic are virtually identical to those the Commission approved in the NetCoalition [sic] Order. First, the proposed fees for NASDAQ Basic data will apply equally to all professional subscribers and equally to all non-professional subscribers. The fees therefore do not unreasonably discriminate among types of subscribers. Second, the proposed fees for the NASDAQ Basic data are substantially less than those charged by the Network Processors for the consolidated NBBO or last sale data. Third, NASDAQ projects that the total revenues generated by the fee for NASDAQ Basic data initially will amount to less than the $8 million per year that NYSE Arca projected would be generated by its ArcaBook data.<sup>13</sup>

Finally, as stated above, rapid effectiveness of the proposed rule change is in the public interest and supports the protection of investors by allowing data distributors to make additional market data available to investors that choose to purchase it. Widespread availability of NASDAQ Basic benefits investors by improving access to real-time market data that investors can choose to use. It also enables member firms to reduce their costs and to pass on those cost savings to their customers through reduced commissions.
